Missionaries of the Week: Vic & Gwen Flaming

* Vic's Mom turns 90 on Tuesday! Praise the Lord that we can enjoy being with Mom & Dad Flaming more often these days. * The online training intensive Gwen was part of the end of September went very well. (This was in place of a training workshop planned for in North Carolina.) * Our son Phil is doing a great job helping do some of the projects around the place that Vic hasn't been able to do this summer. * A number of those going through the training Gwen is involved with are missionaries in Latin America. Pray with us that they can be instrumental in getting our training running in Spanish. * SYIS workshops are currently being planned for Pakistan, France & French Africa, and Florida. Pray that those involved will be able to organize and run these workshops and that the Covid situation will not hinder participants from attending. * Our SYIS Online training started last week with the fourth quarter classes. Pray for all those missionaries who are taking these courses online. There are a large number from east Asia in this current batch. * Vic's leg / hip continues to be quite painful. X rays are not showing that there is a hard bone or joint issue, so he is taking physical therapy in hopes that any muscular problems might be resolved. He sees the doctor again this Friday.
