Missionaries of the Week: Garrett & Joanna Schlake

*Winter brings with it less students braving the cold to come to their respective groups, but that does not dismay guys like Nathanaël, who has loved how deep the recent Bible discussions have been. Please pray students wouldn't make weather an excuse. *Students are organizing a prayer breakfast every other Saturday! The objective is to share, pray for friends, classmates, the different groups, and each other. *In February we will have a student weekend where we will cover the book of Jonah and have other trainings and workshops. Pray for students to sign up. *God has answered prayer by giving us a student named Bianka, who started our new English Bible discussion group at a new university! Stanislas told me last week that he will be starting a French group at that same campus this coming semester! Pray that the Lord would give them endurance and other Christian students to lead with them (currently they are the only Christians in their groups). *Even though groups have shrunk, they are still in a MUCH better place than last year, and we have students who are ready to do outreach and see them grow this coming semester! *The past 3 years the spring semester has been a challenge with students having all their exams the first two weeks and not transitioning right into other activities. Pray this semester will be different. *Please pray new relationships would form and no one would feel isolated from the groups. *Our Church in Toulouse continues to go through big changes on almost every end, especially since our council president just announced his family is moving to another city. Please pray for new leadership to step in and for our church's finances (we are in extreme deficit)!
