Missionary of the Week: Garrett Schlake

*This weekend we are hosting an online student event over "La fin d'un monde" (The End Times/Revelation). Our pastor is helping us lead it. *I was able to be part of the most recent pastoral event with many of the protestant pastors and missionaries here in Toulouse. It was a time of updating on how things were going and it gave us a chance to better partner with the different churches. *Our two groups have continued online this past semester, despite the confinement, and one has even grown! Please pray the momentum would carry over, and we could meet in person one day soon! *We have one of our students from a Muslim background who is starting a group to outreach to Muslims! His name is Sihem. *Recently, on national news the Ministre de l'intérieur (Secretary of Homeland Security for France) said that evangelicals "are a really important problem for the Republic." He then indirectly compared us to Muslim extremists, and it caused some issues for the church here. Please pray this doesn't cause future problems for the church! The fatigue from being in front of screen all the time has set in for our students, please pray they stay motivated. Also, please pray that more non-Christians would join our Bible discussions, and that real friendships would be made! *Joanna and I are visiting Tours next week to turn in our marriage documents. Please pray they are all in order and that the process goes smoothly. * I am completely confined to my apartment and would love to chat via Facebook, Zoom, or whatever you prefer.
